GREAT RACE FOR SOUTH AXIS
OF THE EARTH ENDS IN AP-

ENGLISHMAN.

SCOTT'S CLAIM PROVEN

Amundsen, It Is Said, Did Not Actually Reach the Much-sought-for Goal, According to News
Dispatches.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wellington, New Zealand, March 7.—Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer states that Captain Scott, the British explorer, has reached the South Pole.

The cable dispatches from New Zealand announcing that Captain Scott had found the south pole, comes as a startling climax to the race which five explorers of different nationalities have been making to reach this extremity of the undiscovered portion of the globe.

Captain Robert Falcon Scott started on his expedition from Port Chalmers, New Zealand, November 29, 1910. He was well equipped for this dash for the farthest south, having made a previous expedition under the direction of the Royal Geographical Society.

At that time he attained a record of 82 degrees 20 minutes which remained the record up to the time of Lieutenant Shackleton's notable exploit. Shackleton pushed farther south and in 1907 reached 83 degrees 23 minutes, or about one hundred miles from the south pole.

This remained the record and inspired the hardy navigators of many nations to attempt the exhilarating feat of reaching the pole itself.

Captain Scott took the route by way of Australia and New Zealand. He sailed due south into Ross sea, a great stretch of water reaching toward the south pole. His chief competitor in this dash was Captain Roald Amundsen, who is commanded by the king of Norway and the Norwegian government.

Amundsen chose the route by way of South America as against Scott and three others who went by the Australian route. Amundsen left Buenos Ayres on board the steamship Fram, toward the close of 1910. He passed through the Straits of Magellan and then steered for Ross sea, the same sheet which Scott had gained by way of the New Zealand and Australian route.

Did Not Reach Pole.

London, March 7.—It is stated on good authority according to a special dispatch received here this morning from Christiana, Norway, that Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer and leading rival of Capt. Scott, did not reach the South pole.

Amundsen's Claim.

Copenhagen, March 7.—The "Social Demokraten" publishes a dispatch from Christiana saying that a private individual in that city has received a telegram from the Fram expedition stating that Amundsen reached the South pole.

First Message.

The first message of the definite statement from Amundsen that Scott had reached the south pole was received from Wellington, New Zealand, by the daily express.

FOR SHERMAN LAW

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, March 7.—Members of the National Civic Federation today discussed the tentative draft of a bill supplementing the Sherman antitrust act which was proposed by the federation to the department of regulation of corporations and presented by President Taft. Another session of their deliberations was devoted to a discussion of the operation of and expulsion of the government pure food and drug act under the chairmanship of John K. Hammond.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, March 7.—George Graham Beebe, and H. H. Shattoff, who with the other member of the firm of H. H. Shattoff & Co., have been on trial for the past five months by the United States district court for an alleged conspiracy and misuse of the mails pleaded to the indictment charged when court convened this afternoon.

NINETY-THREE CORPORATIONS
ORGANIZED DURING FEBRUARY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 7.—In February, the shortest month '93 new corporations were formed in Wisconsin, according to Corporation Clerk J. R. Edwards of the department of state. One hundred is a good average throughout the year. In January the number was 95 and in December, 86. In 1911 filing fees paid by corporations amounted to about $100,000. The record was established in 1907 when fees of over $100,000 were paid the state.

Fees paid in January, 1912, amounted to $13,421.60, and in February $6,332. These amounts do not include the fees received from foreign corporations which are required to file their annual statements early in the year. Each of these must pay in addition to $2 as a filing fee, an amount equivalent to $1 per thousand in proportion to the increase in the business during the year, in the Black Hills.

Lodge Ratification Resolution Interpreting Clause May be Saving

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 7.—With final action on the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France definitely fixed for late this afternoon, both the advocates and opponents of the treaties in the unamended form, figured a very close vote on the crucial provision contained in Clause 3, of Article 3.

Senate's Power Hit.

Opponents of the treaty claim this clause not only delegates the general treaty making power to the proposed joint high commission of inquiry, but blunts the senate to accept the commission's determinations.

The foreign relations committee, which at first favored striking out this clause, has shifted its stand to that of preference to have the treaties left intact, and, the objectionable clause virtually nullified by the Lodge ratification resolution interpreting it so as to preserve the full constitutional treaty powers of the senate.

Would Cause Delay.

The explanation of this change of sentiment is a desire to avoid anything that might jeopardize success, as Senator Lodge and others contend that any change in the text would necessitate such a delay through renewed negotiations as to imperil all hope of arbitration between the three powers.

CHILDREN DEPORTED
WITHOUT DIFFICULTY

Police Make no Efforts to Stop Sending Forty Children to Philadelphia.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lawrence, Mass., March 7.—The police made no attempt today to prevent the departure from this city to Philadelphia of a delegation of 40 children of striking textile operatives although the officers held up the party long enough to secure the name and address of every child making the trip.

The departure of the children was the principal event of the early morning hours although disturbances in which the pickets of the strikers departed, received some police attention and but 12 arrests had been made previous to 8:00 o'clock.

Observers at the mill gates reported that there was no noticeable increase in the number of returning operatives.

A crowd of about 200 persons in addition to 30 policemen witnessed the departure of the children.

Several hundred strikers made an attempt to enter South Lawrence but they were turned back by the police. Then they marched down Essex street shooting and shouting. The police arrested a few of the leaders. The marchers went into the Italian district and thence to the common. The police officers were called out to disperse the strikers.

Children to New York.

Washington, March 7.—When investigations into the Lawrence, Mass., conditions were resumed today Daniel J. Murphy, prosecuting attorney of Lawrence, read a telegram from Samuel C. Logan the assistant city marshal of the strike city, telling of the runaway after being ill-treated of some of the striker's children who were taken to New York by the committee of the socialist party.

A preliminary investigation of the strike situation at Lawrence, Mass., has revealed no ground justifying action by the federal department of justice declared District Attorney French of Boston.

vs. Hayes Brothers Heard This Afternoon—Sartell Loses Case.

It was expected that the last of the witnesses for the defense in the case of La. H. Hilton of Hobart vs. the Hayes Brothers, would be heard in the circuit court this afternoon. Hilton is seeking $10,000 damages for personal injury which he sustained in an elevator accident in the building owned by the Hayes Brothers on the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets one day last summer. Adams and Edgar of Hobart, are the attorneys for the plaintiff and Jeffris, Monat, Ostlund, and Avery are representing the defendants.

Sartell Loses Case.

The jury in the case of Emanuel N. Sartell vs. the Janesville Traction Co., brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant, allowing Mr. Sartell no compensation for his injuries. The case of Thomas Farrell vs. Chas. W. Shilene will be the next case for trial.

Counsel For Defendants Seek to Secure Liberty for Wealthy Chients Today.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, March 7.—Counsel for the defense in the trial of the ten Chicago meat packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law, began a battle today to obtain the liberty of their wealthy clients.

At the opening of court Attorney Miller presented a verbal motion asking Judge Carpenter to take the case from the jury and discharge the defendants. The grounds on which the motion was based was that the government has, in the opinion of the defense, failed to prove the charges stated in the indictment beyond a reasonable doubt as required by law.

See No Mystery.

New York, March 7.—"It is curious," said George W. Perkins today, "that the papers should make a mystery out of my calling on Col. Roosevelt yesterday when everyone knows I am for him. I did see Senator Dixon last night. He is making a heroic fight against the tremendous odds of a powerful political machine to give the people of this country a chance to express their preference for a president. My talk with Senator Dixon was about this very important matter."

Convention.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., March 7.—Because he did not want to appear as endorsing any attack upon Col. Roosevelt, Congressman Lenroot of Wisconsin, withdrew as candidate for delegate at large on the La Follette slate. This became known today through a personal letter sent by Lenroot to Madison. Lenroot said it was with regret that he took the step and that he still desired to remain in the La Follette ranks.

Several La Follette leaders here are becoming angry over Walter L. Houser's repeated "breaks" in his western interviews. They expressed the opinion that La Follette would do well to "call off" his campaign manager. One staunch La Follette man stated that Houser's statement yesterday intimating that Gov. Hiram Johnson of California had been bought up by the Roosevelt forces for a place on the Colossal's ticket, was the worst possible kind of politics, even though it were true, which he doubted.

STEEL MEASURE WILL BE REPORTED SOON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 7.—Democrats members of the senate committee on finance today decided to stand by the steel tariff revision bill substantially as passed by the House. The republican majority of the committee will negatively report the bill. The democratic leaders have been sounding Senator Cummins of Iowa, Bristow of Kansas, and Pollock of Washington, and other progressive republicans as to what help might be expected from them when the issue is presented in the senate.

The democrats expect soon to know definitely just how far the progressives will lean to meet the democratic position. Several progressive republican leaders expressed the belief today that they would be able to reach some common ground. The regular republicans express indifference as to the attitude the progressives may take as the republican leaders say they have assurances that the president will veto any measure which is not based on reports of the tariff board.

SUPREME COURT ASKS FOR OPINIONS THAT MAY AID DECISIONS

High Tribunal Wants Aid in Interpretation of the Recent Home Rule Law Passed by Legislature.

An invitation to the lawyers of the state to bring the light of their legal learning to bear, upon the so-called home rule law, enacted by the last legislature, has been issued by the supreme court. This law which gives cities the power to fix their own form of government within broader limits than heretofore is to come before the supreme court for interpretation shortly in an action brought against Carl D. Thompson, city clerk, representing the city of Milwaukee, and the fact that there are few precedents to aid the court in its consideration of the case has prompted it to make appeal to the lawyers of Wisconsin.

Harry Maxfield, as city attorney of Janesville, received the following letter some days ago from the court and will prepare a brief as requested.

To the City Attorneys of the Various Cities of the State:

Gentlemen:

Your attention is called to the fact that the case of State ex rel. Mueller, respondent, vs. Thompson, city clerk, appellant, involving the constitutionality of Chapter 476 of the session laws of 1911, commonly known as the home rule law, is now pending in the supreme court and will be argued early in April next. The question is a new one upon which there is little authority; it is also a question of great importance and interest to every city in the state and to its citizens. In view of these considerations and in order to obtain as much help as possible the court invites the legal advisor of every city in the state to examine the question and submit a brief on a friend of the court upon whichever side he deems the law to be. This invitation is also extended to any member of the bar interested in the question.

THREE GET PENALTIES FOR STEALING COAL

Thefts From Cars Have Been Numerous and Other Arrests May Follow—Fined $5 and Costs Each.

Three Italian truck laborers in the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, giving the names of Henry Peters, Moran Loker, and Sam Porteno, plead guilty in the municipal court this morning to stealing two hundred pounds of coal from the company's cars last night. The arrests were made by Chief of Police George Appleby on the complaint of H. F. Romaline, a detective in the service of the railway company who has been in the city since last Monday investigating the coal thefts.

The two went to the home of the three men who at first denied that they had any coal, but the officers found it in a closet. Mr. Romaline observed them come to a car with a handcart at about eight o'clock last night and fill up their sacks with coal which they threw off the car. The load was so heavy that it broke down the sled.

But one of the men, Henry Peters, was able to talk English, and the Judge and District Attorney carried on the entire conversation regarding the affair with him. Peters at first said he did not steal the coal but that the railway company gave the section workers all the coal they needed. It took considerable effort to convince him that this was not the case, or at least to force him to admit it. Peters declared that he had previously worked for the Chicago & North Western Railway at South Janesville where the men lived in cars and were furnished coal for cooking, and he thought he had the same privilege now.

The foreman of the section crew with which the men arranged worked agreed to see that they would bring the money for their dues to the chief of police this evening. All of them had money coming in wages but none in hand.

Coal thefts from the railway cars have been very numerous this winter. Detective Romaline has evidence of fourteen or fifteen other cases and if the thefts do not cease will make further arrests. It has been the custom in some families to send children to the yards to get coal in bushels, hand-carts and sleds. Not only are the children and their parents made liable to arrest for the pilferings, but the children are placed in grave danger from passing trains.

PUTS AN END TO INDIGESTION AND A SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH

Take a little Diapospin now and your Stomach will feel fine five minutes later.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapospin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 25-cent cases of Papo's Diapospin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distresses go in five minutes, and releases at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructation, flatulence, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and Diapospin is an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures, advertising that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sour, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors. A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Papo's Diapospin.

ROLLER RACES ARE PLANNED FOR RINK; EXPERTS ENTERED

Two Hundred Dollars in Purse Hung Up for Mile, Two Miles and Three Mile Speed Contests.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week will see some of the speediest boys of the world, on rollers, assembled at the West Side rink to compete in the one, two, and three mile events which are being scheduled by the management for the purpose of $200, that are being hung up for the events.

Harley Davidson, the world's champion, holder of dozens of medals in all sorts of athletic contests, is making the dual arrangements and the entry list up-to-date, though the best men on rollers in this country would compete. Among those entered are Fred Martin of St. Paul; Freddy Tyrell, former amateur world's champion; Jesse Carey, European champion; Roland Cian, Italian champion; Lawrence Shoberger, state champion of Oklahoma; Jack Patch, Michigan state champion. Mr. Davidson himself is not only holder of the world's champion medal, won February 25th in London, England, in 1909, but is also one of the best known trick skaters and fancy boys in the business. He will give special exhibitions during the stay of the party in the city for the three days. Special races are also to be arranged for local men and races between Janesville, Beloit and Rockford racers are planned.

At the request of many friends I have decided to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor at the primary election to be held March 18, 1912.

It is due the voters and tax payers to know what I stand for, and what I will attempt to aid in accomplishing if elected.

First, I believe in a conservative, economical business administration where every dollar expended represents a dollar in value.

Second, I believe in the impartial enforcement of law without fear or favor and that no man or business should be exempt.

Third, I believe that the number of saloons in Janesville makes it necessary for the man engaged in the business to resort to all sorts of devices to make a living. The number should be reduced and the man that are licensed should understand that offenses will not be tolerated. Obey the law or forfeit the license.

Fourth, the city is polluted with dives and gambling houses, with slot machines and other devices which ruin our boys and young men. These conditions should not exist and they need not.

I believe that my experiences for the past 35 years with men and affairs, qualifies me to render the city, which has long been my home, efficient service. I ask your support at the polls.

SPORTSFORTY TEAMS BEATEN FOR APPLETON MEET

Twenty-Six Still in Race For Positions in Big Meet March 28, 29, 30.
Janesville Must Win One More Game.

Appleton, Wis., March 6.—Forty teams have been eliminated in the race for places in the eighth annual Wisconsin High School Basketball tournament to be held at Lawrence college March 28, 29 and 30, leaving twenty-six teams still in the running for the eight places.

Twenty-four teams had entered for the three places in the East Central division, but after carefully considering the records submitted, the Lawrence committee in charge of the tournament was able to eliminate sixteen of them, and the other nine teams will have to play special elimination games with neutral officials to decide which teams will be admitted.

Four is scheduled to play Antigo next Friday evening, and the committee has ordered that neutral officials have charge of the game and the loser will be eliminated, while the winner will meet West Green Bay for a place in the tournament.

Wausau and Oconto have been ordered to meet in the Lawrence gymnasium, the loser to drop out, while the winner will meet Appleton on a neutral floor for the second place in the tournament.

Menasha and Fond du Lac will have to play an elimination game in Oshkosh, the loser to be eliminated and the winner to meet Oshkosh on a neutral floor for the third place in the East Central division.

Half of the sixteen teams entered in the southern division were eliminated on their records, and special games have been ordered for the other eight. Baraboo and Jefferson have been ordered to play in Madison and Racine and Kenosha are ordered to meet on a neutral floor, to be agreed upon, and the winners of these two games will then meet on a neutral floor, the winners of that contest to play Madison for a place in the tournament.

Columbus and Monticello have been ordered to meet in Portage, the loser to be eliminated and the winner to play Janesville for the other place from the southern division.

All but six of the eighteen teams entered in the western division have been eliminated. Glenwood City and Menomonie have been ordered to meet in Chippewa Falls, and Stanley and Neillsville will meet on the same floor, the two winners to play for one of the places in the tournament, while Chippewa Falls and La Crosse will meet on a neutral floor, to be agreed upon, for the other place.

By defeating both Lodi Smith and Barron with neutral officials known to the members of the committee, Rice Lake eliminated both those teams and earned the right to meet the winner of the Superior-Ashland contest for the place in the tournament from the northern division. Ashland recently defeated Superior 27 to 16 in Ashland, with Coach Catlin officiating, but Superior is to be given another chance, the two teams being ordered to play on a neutral floor, and with neutral officials.

All elimination games must have been played by March 23, and it is expected the preliminary games will be played the last of this week as in some instances three games must be played, and allowing one game each week, would bring the last contest on March 22 or 23, just a week be-

TO GIVE HARD GAME FOR WATERLOO TEAM

First of Series of Games Involving State Championship Scheduled

Here Saturday Night.

The state basketball championship is involved in the game scheduled between the Cardinals and the Waterloo team here Saturday night. Other contenders for the honors in Wisconsin include the Company C team of Fond du Lac and the Superior Shamrocks, which will be the next opponent for the Cardinals if they win from Waterloo.

Every effort will be made by the Cardinals to do their best work Saturday. The game promises to be fast and one of the hardest tests which has been presented for the local team. Waterloo claims a large number of victories from strong teams in the central and northern parts of the state. The Cardinals, by defeating Monroe have gained the southern Wisconsin championship, and, by defeating the New York Nationals have added not a little prestige to their record for this season.

FRENCH AVIATOR MAKES LONG FLIGHT IN MACHINE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

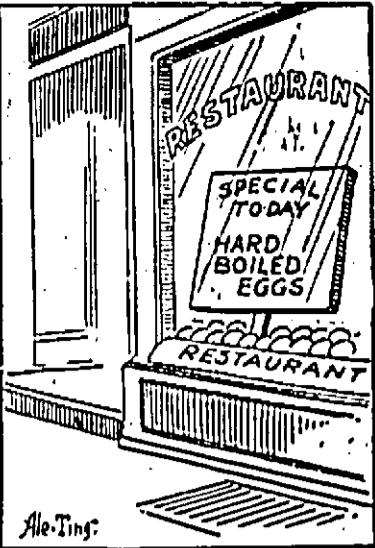

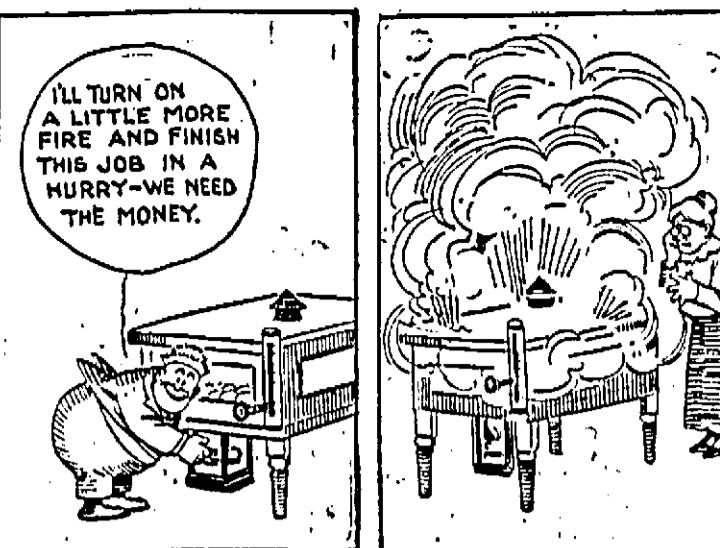

Paris, France, March 7.—Henri Salver, the French aviator, arrived at Issy-les-Moulineaux, a suburb of Paris, in his monoplane at eleven o'clock this morning, having traveled from London without a stop. He covered the distance of about two hundred and twenty-two miles in two hours and fifty-seven minutes.

He declared that, having urgent business to transact in Paris and knowing that the London-Paris train and steamboat service was affected by the coal strike, he decided to make the voyage through the air in spite of the unfavorable weather.

A COLD, LA GRIPPE, THEN PNEUMONIA

Is too often the fatal sequence, and coughs that hang on weaken the system and lower the vital resistance. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe la grippe cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foly's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all, the coughing spells had entirely ceased. Foly's Honey and Tar Compound can't be beat." It stops the cough by healing the cause. Refine substitutes.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS FROM EIGHTH TEAM

Defeat of Edgerton Last Night 44 to 8
Leaves But One Game Between Locals and Appleton Meet.

Janesville high school was successful in the eighth basketball game of the season by a large score last night when they defeated the Edgerton team, 44 to 8. But one more game remains to be played and that is with the winner of a game between Montezuma and Columbus, played last night also. The outcome of this game has not been heard from yet and the local boys do not know which team they play, but are sure of being able to defeat either one of them, and so make good their right to go to the Appleton meet at which will be decided the state championship.

At Edgerton last evening, the boys, who had not played outside of their own floor but once, and who expected a hard rub in a new and small gymnasium, got such a good start before the hosts could wake up that they were not in the least bothered to keep the lead throughout. Hemming and Elder made the most baskets, each throwing six during the game, while Falter was a star in his position at guard. Clover team work and fast passing on the part of the Janesville team had the Edgerton boys guessing every minute of the time and they could not seem to get straightened out at all.

Eight games have already been won by the local lads and one defeat, which is an excellent record. Last year the team had a total of thirteen victories for the season, but the way looks now like your team plans to get at least fifteen. It not more. Last night's scores were as follows:

Janesville Position. Edgerton 44, Korat 8; Cunningham 14, Sutton 1; Mcintosh 14, Whitford 1; Editor 14, Falter 1; Photo graph 14; Editor 14; Korat 14; Cunningham 14; Falter 14; Brown 14; Whitford 1; Free throw: Korat 10; Sutton 2; Reference—Dexter of Sun Prairie, Umpire—Langdon.

SESSION OF NEW BRUNSWICK LEGISLATURE OPENED TODAY.

Important Economic Measures to be Considered—Railway Legislation Has Important Place.

Frederiction, N. B., March 7.—The fifth session of the twelfth Legislative Assembly of New Brunswick was opened this afternoon by the new Lieutenant-Governor, the Hon. Josiah Wood. The opening was accompanied by the usual ceremonies. The speech from the throne forecasted an interesting and important session. Special attention is to be given to measures relating to the development of the Province along industrial and other lines. One matter of importance will be the enacting of legislation to put into effect the new arrangement under which the Dominion and Provincial governments will co-operate in New Brunswick's immigration work. Railway measures also have an important place on the agenda. Special legislation will be sought in aid of the St. John Valley Railway in the construction of the Muirs and Frederiction branch. Authority will be sought also for the construction of a branch line of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Nappadoggan to connect with the St. John Valley Railway, thus giving an entry to the port of St. John.

NATIONAL 40

We

Road Race Champion

Dealers of National cars are now the focus of attention in all motor-markets. They have what the public is most anxious to own—The Road Race Champion.

The public does not want to drive in races—NO—but it does demand a car that is safe, reliable, strong, powerful and easy to control, comfortable to ride in, and refined in every detail. Such a car is the National, as the Records Proved.

Motor-Age selects the National 40 as the 1911 Road Race Champion. It was not a "narrow escape" either. Listen to this unbiased authoritative report—"To select the most successful make of car is a comparatively easy task, for none can question the right of the National to this honor." "The record of the National is nothing short of phenomenal." Out of 27 road races run the National took part in 12 and won 9 Firsts, 3 Seconds, and 2 Thirds. Added to all this is the fact that the National is the holder of the World's Record, which was smashed twice in one day and which withstood the attacks of others on the magnificent Savannah course.

Harvey Herrick, a National driver, is selected by this authority as the 1911 Road Race Champion driver. He is one of the 30 Pilots who drove National cars in various kinds of events in 1911 (who are not factory employees). Only seven pilots are factory employees. Herrick won the Free-For-All at Santa Monica in a National, breaking the World's Record, with an average of 74.63 M. P. M. This National is exactly the same as you buy, a stock car in every particular, except high second speed gears in transmission.

Race tracks are the laboratories where National cars are put through the white heat of analytical tests. Thousands of miles of sustained high speed tells the story of the National's Quality. A car that can come out of such a battle without a scar is more reliable and more to be trusted as a conveyance for you, your wife and your family than some ill-bred, slimy machine of inferior material, design and workmanship.

Consider the cost, too. Cars from foreign and American factories, of much greater cost have endeavored to conquer the National, all without success.

The National stands out with silhouette distinctness against the background of all competition, regardless of cost.

Many of our sales this year will be to motor-educated people, who had formerly owned more expensive cars—but who happily learned that the National is adequate in service, accompanied by exclusive elegance and comfort at less money.

The National, due to its world-wide reputation, "Stock Champion" and "Road Race Champion," its heritage of perfection in correct fundamentals, its refinements in appointments, and its comfort and general atmosphere of elegance—makes the best value on the market regardless of price.

See the National at The Rock County Auto Show March 14, 15, 16.

ONE STRAW VOTE.

According to the Nation the following bit of interesting news relative to a straw vote on choice for presidential nominees was recently taken with surprising results for Col. Roosevelt and very flattering to President Taft. The Nation says:

One straw vote in the West has been strangely overlooked by the Colonel's admirers, though it gives convincing proof of his immense popularity. We refer to the postage-card canvas conducted by the Appeal to Reason. This is the well-known socialist paper, with a large circulation. Calling upon its readers for an expression of their presidential preferences, it has found, to date, that 41,384 of them want Roosevelt, while only 422 declare for Taft. This looks perfectly overwhelming till we note that Roosevelt really ran fourth, Daha leading with 65,028 votes, McNamara getting 5,472, Gompers being third with 48,225. Closely after Roosevelt, the fourth favorite, came Haywood with 41,100 votes. This is the company for the Colonel, - but as he is only fourth in the affections of the socialists, it follows, by the irresistible logic which has been used in connection with the other Western straw votes, that there is a whirlwind demand of the people that Daha be made president.

WHAT STIMSON STANDS FOR.

Secretary of War Stimson, erstwhile friend of Colonel Roosevelt, the choice of the latter for the governorship of New York state at the last election, came out flat-footed for President Taft and his policies in his speech at Chicago Tuesday night. Not only that, but he termed Roosevelt a menace to the country at large. It is interesting at this time to see just how Stimson stands, and why, and the following statements will be interesting to read:

"I am for the re-nomination of President Taft.

"I am now and always have been a progressive."

"Mr. Taft has faithfully carried out the progressive faith."

"I entered public life under the inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt."

"I am a firm believer in his great national policies."

"I am now his sincere friend."

"But I believe those who are forcing him, against his original intention, into the arena against Mr. Taft, are jeopardizing instead of helping real progress."

"Mr. Taft has faithfully carried out his platform of four years ago."

"Mr. Taft has been most falsely vilified and abused."

"The recall of judges would bring the courts down into the welter of politics."

CORRUPT PRACTICE LAW.

The last legislature passed a new election law known as the corrupt practice law which complicates matters considerably for the candidates. One of the interesting clauses found in this maludge is that relative to the publication of circulars which the law says must contain the name and address of author and candidate. Rumors have been heard about the city recently that the circular published in behalf of a certain candidate was written in part by a newspaper man. As the law requires the publication of the name of the author as well as the candidate, it is safe to brand the "tale" as a lie direct, one circulated for campaign purposes or for some unknown reason. The circular in question contains so many absurd claims that it is another prima facie evidence that no person who was not seeking to influence the voters in behalf of the candidate in question, regardless of many of the real facts in the case, would have written anything contained therein. This should not set at rest any rumor that the article was written by a Janesville newspaper man.

ENGLISH COAL STRIKE.

England is in the midst of a coal strike that bids fair to tie up the industries of the British Isles for some time to come, unless settled. To add to their trouble England also faces a crisis as regards the suffrage problem, and between the two John Bull has his hands full. The coal strike means much to Industrial England and unless settled shortly will affect the whole of Europe.

Roosevelt and his followers are on the defensive. Before they got through they may let some eat out of the bag that will eat up all the meat they have been trying to scare the voters with.

Now they say that there may be military maneuvers down in Mexico this summer that will take all the regular army as well as a few thousand of the state militia organizations.

Uncle Sam does not usually start anything which leads up to an arrest without having pretty good reasons for doing so, no matter what the individual arrested may think.

It is not stated, but it is expected that having Roosevelt on the jury caused several young lawyers to have a bad attack of stage fright.

China is still wondering whether freedom from the Manchu power means real liberty or merely trading King Log for King Stork.

President Taft is not settling any new records for message writing this year. He prefers to "talk" what he has to say.

The murderers of Mrs. Kaufman have been given ample time in which to repent of their crimes against law and order.

CLUB MEN PLANNING

BIG UNION MEETING

Men's Clubs of Six Churches in City to Have Banquet and Program on March 19 at Methodist Church.

On March 19, one week from next Tuesday night, the Union meeting of the Brotherhoods of the city will be held in the Methodist church. The Men's Club from the Congregational, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, United Brethren and Trinity Episcopal churches will be present on that evening to enjoy a meeting together. This gathering has been arranged by the presidents of the different organizations who have acted as the committee in charge, planning the dinner and program.

At 6:30 o'clock a reception will be held in the church parlors which will last for an hour, dinner being served at 7:30 promptly. After the feast has been given the proper attention, an excellent program has been arranged, consisting of a number of talks upon the different problems and aspects of the main topic, "The Church." M. O. Mount has been chosen to act in the capacity of toastmaster for the occasion and the following program is planned.

"The Church and the Boy" J. T. Hooper, superintendent of the Blind Institute.

"Things That Keep Janesville Men Away From Church" District Attorney Stanley G. Dunwiddie.

"The Man and the Church" Dr. Eugene Updike, First Congregational Church of Madison.

Discussions will follow each of the talks and especially Mr. Dunwiddie which will be followed by short talks by J. A. Scott, S. C. Barnard, and T. O. Howe. The music will be in charge of Prof. J. S. Taylor. All men of the city are invited to this meeting and every effort is being made by the members of the committee to make it one of the best of the kind ever held in the city.

TRAIN HITS BUGGY;
FOOTVILLE MAN HURT

Ernest Karmley Badly Cut About Face and Arms in Accident Last Night—Companion Uninjured.

INPEL TO THE GAZETTE

Footville, March 7.—Ernest Karmley and Orin Day, both of this village, narrowly escaped serious injury or death last night about nine o'clock when the buggy in which they were riding was struck by a freight train at one of the crossings here. Mr. Karmley was thrown a distance of fifteen feet and received several severe cuts, one above the right eye, on his chin, and about his arms and shoulders. No bones were broken. Mr. Day escaped without injury except for a few bruises. The buggy was completely wrecked but the horse was uninjured and was stopped before he had gone very far.

Mr. Karmley was taken at once to Dr. Lucey's home, where his injuries were dressed. He was then taken to his home where he is resting quite comfortable today. The men were on their way home from Hanover when the accident occurred.

PIANO RECITAL TO BE HELD ON MONDAY

Mrs. John Fuller Sweeney Will Close Series of Recitals Given Before The Apollo Club.

Before the Apollo Club on Monday evening, March 11th, will be given a piano recital by Mrs. John Fuller Sweeney. This closes the series of Apollo recitals for this season.

The season just closing has been one of the most successful in the Club's history. It is especially pleasing and fitting that the Apollo Club has among its own members, one whose work as a pianist, entitles her to a place as a professional artist, equal to other foreign artists who have appeared in the season's recitals. Of her work the Evening News of Milwaukee writes:

"Mrs. Sweeney showed a breadth of intellect and power of feeling that was most gratifying to her auditors. In the Chopin numbers it was plainly evident that the player was imbued with the spirit of the Polish composer. The Etude, Nocturne and Ballade were given with the clearest perception of the intricacy of melodic and harmonic form peculiar to the master of lyric music. In fact in every number of her well arranged program, Mrs. Sweeney proved herself the artist; combining always the utmost brilliancy of technique and delicacy of touch with the truest sentiment."

Among the artists who have appeared before the Apollo Club during the season past are Maude Powell, Sybil Surin McDonald, Mary Oberdorfer, the Reynold Sisters, and others.

QUESTION OF SOCIAL PURITY WAS DISCUSSED

Mrs. M. G. Townsend of Milton gave address at meeting of W. C. T. U. Yesterday.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U., held yesterday afternoon at the club rooms on West Milwaukee street, Mrs. M. G. Townsend of Milton gave a very interesting and profitable address on the question of social purity. She brought out some startling facts in relation to the white slave traffic and urged parents to guard against dangers. The Rev. Wildbridge also gave a short talk and asked the members of the society to co-operate with him in the revival meetings which are being held by himself and wife.

Mr. Stebbins asked the help of the temperance woman in behalf of the young people's temperance movement he is starting in the city.

District Attorney R. G. Dunwiddie was in Beloit yesterday on legal business.

A. B. Woodring of Tyrone, Pa., is visiting his brother, W. W. Woodring on Milton avenue.

Alice Carrie Lee remains quite ill at her home on South Academy street. J. H. Clark of Beloit was here on business this afternoon.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. George Merry.

Mrs. George Merry, a former Rock county resident, who is known to many in this vicinity by her maiden name of Anna Jackson, died at her home four miles southeast of Dell Rapids, South Dakota, Friday morning, February 23rd, after only twenty-four hours of illness. Only the day before her with her husband attended an institute in her usual good health. She was taken ill early Thursday morning and rapidly became worse, medical treatment being unable to help her.

Anna Jackson was born in the town of Rock, Rock County, Wis., in 1881, where she lived with her parents until 1892 when she was united in marriage to Geo. S. Merry of Dell Rapids. The funeral was held from the Baptist church Monday afternoon and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

Besides her husband she leaves four children, Mildred, Lyman, Robert and Isabel, an aged father, three sisters and two brothers, being Robert Jackson, Miss Lizzie Jackson and Mrs. John Rummel of Beloit, Wis., Mrs. C. C. Neff of Mora, Minn., and John Jackson of Dell Rapids, who were all present at the last and often. Mrs. Merry was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was highly respected by all.

BRIEF PERSONAL MENTION PROGRAM FOR CIRCUS
IS ABOUT COMPLETED

Y. M. C. A. Members Working on Stunts for Big Circus April 16—Meeting of Intermediates.

Plans for the mammoth circus which is to be put on by the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium classes about April 15th, are progressing rapidly and a number of the performers are already practicing their stunts for that event. This production is being directed by Physical Director Hartwell who has about completed the program and has the arrangements for the performance well under way. All of the proceeds will go to fund for the renewal of the apparatus and furnishings for the gymnasium to replace the present wornout equipment. The Janesville Symphony orchestra will be one of the features of the circus which will also include an inconceivable number of wonderful and extraordinary things. Exhibits by the different classes will be mixed with many novelties which are being worked up by the large number of artists among the members. Fakirs, sleek wire performers, tug of war, plain and fancy tumblers, and hundreds of other equally interesting stunts will delight the audience on that evening. All members of the gymnasium classes are requested to be present on class nights as far as possible from now on.

Meeting of Intermediates. Tomorrow night at 7:30 all of the intermediates are requested to be present at an important meeting in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. Secretary Kline and Physical Director Hartwell wish to announce something which is of interest to every member of that class.

and Items of Interest.

Among the facts which interest the homeowners in the city is that the price of eggs has again dropped, three cents this time, making their selling price 23¢ a dozen. At wholesale they are only bringing 20¢ and the dealers have all they need at that price. The reason for this sudden dropping is probably due to the fairly mild weather which has been in vogue for week or so and the accompanying activity of the hens. Although the farmers around this city are not bringing in as many as in the little towns in the close neighborhood the prices conform to their quan-

GRANDFATHER SIGNED THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Mrs. Almira Hendricks, Who Died at Evansville, Monday, Granddaughter of Robert Morris.

[EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, March 7.—Mrs. Almira Hendricks died at the home of her son, H. D. Hendricks, Monday, March 4, 1912, of old age. Almira Morris was born at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., the twenty-second day of September, 1824. Her mother was the daughter of Robert Morris, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and one of the most intimate friends and confidantes of George Washington. She was one of a family of thirteen children, twelve daughters and one son, of which only three daughters remain. She joined the Methodist church when a child of fourteen and has been a faithful member up to the present time. In the year 1840 she was married to Daniel Hendricks of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., who preceded her to the better land twenty-six years ago. Eight children were born to this union—four boys and four girls—two of whom are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother. S. C. Hendricks of Nebraska and H. D. Hendricks of Evansville, Wisconsin, with whom she has made her home for the last fifteen years. She leaves thirteen grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren to mourn the loss of a dear grandmother. Her remains will be taken to the cemetery in Almonor, Nebraska, and laid at rest beside her husband.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Co-Operation In The Home.

W E may not be able to bring into our household work, the co-operative methods that now dominate in such large measure the business realm. But we can institute co-operation among the members of the family in reference to running the household machinery, that will greatly lighten the housekeeper's tasks.

The whole family should co-operate toward running the house in a systematic, orderly fashion. The go-as-you-please home, in which each pursues his own pleasures or necessities regardless of the others, lays a hundred-fold heavier burden upon the wife and mother to keep it orderly and neat and well managed than the one where each plays his part toward keeping the whole running properly.

Yet many mothers who are struggling with the household problems do not realize that it is this haphazard, go-as-you-please spirit that is the root of the trouble.

The children rush in from school bringing a trail of mud. They leave doors open, throw their books around, possibly, if they are hungry, make a raid on the larder. Then off they go again to play.

The daughter comes home from business, eats her dinner in a hurry, scurries upstairs to dress, and rushes off to some party or entertainment, leaving her room looking as if a whirlwind had struck it. The head of the house throws newspapers around, or leaves a trail of cigar-ashers wherever he goes. And the mother trots around after each, and picks up and straightens up, until she is tired and worn out and disgusted with the whole bushness. Or else, she lets the house remain in this chaotic condition.

It is pure thoughtlessness on the part of every member of the family who does these things—thoughtlessness that will grow into selfishness. They really have no deep conception of the meaning of home, nor what it stands for. But if they were taught right from the very start that it is a co-operative scheme, and that it is to each one of them to shoulder his part, affairs would go very differently. If a child is brought up to feel that he is responsible for a certain share of the order, neatness and system of the home, he will take up his task rather proudly. It is a far better method for getting each to do his part than by scolding. It is enlisting the co-operative spirit, the feeling of ownership, and most of us respond to this.

In the co-operative home, the wife and mother is the leader, not the drudge. She works with the others, not solely for them. And she finds much more pleasure in her work, than she does when she shoulders it all. The atmosphere of the home is improved in every way.

So, it will pay the mistress of the go-as-you-please home to hold a little conference with the other members of the household and adopt the co-operative plan. Whether the children are young or old, it will do no harm to put it up to them to assume their share. And it might not be amiss for a son or daughter who sees his mother a slave to the careless, haphazard habits of the family to start the revolution. But, however it is brought about, if the go-as-you-please home is changed into the co-operative one, it will prove more satisfying to every member of the family.

MRS. BROOKS CROWNS THE LATE KING EDWARD'S CAT

CROWN FOR CAT.

This is King Edward VII, Mrs. Anita C. Brooks' royal Persian cat, probably the most remarkable cat in America. It was owned by the late King Edward, who presented it to Mrs. Brooks when it was a kitten.

Mrs. Brooks is a well-known New York society woman, president of the Gotham Club and other exclusive organizations. She first saw the cat at Buckingham Palace, when she was presented at court, and admired it so much that the King gave it to her. The King Edward has a madd, and is fed with sterilized milk and the finest soups and meats. When Mrs. Brooks' crown is studded with diamonds, emeralds and rubies, and ornate robe, on other occasions it wears a necklace studded with fourteen large diamonds.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Careless Handling of Bakers' Bread in Both Wagons and Stores.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Even in small towns much bread is bought rather than made at home bakers' bread is concerning the low-grade of flour so often used. Yet, the bakery, at its best, is one of the greatest present helps for the housewife.

Granted that the bakers' loaf is of good quality, and cleanly made, it is frequently an object of suspicion because of the way it is handled. It matters little if the baker and his factory are clean, if the loaf is thrown into wagons and laid on counters to be breathed and coughed upon by customers, and handled again when put into paper bags.

It is not appetizing to look out of the window and see the baker's delivery man throw down the reins and reach in for the leaves to fill his basket to carry into a patron's house.

On his return to the wagon he may swat a fly on his horse's side, or readjust the harness before taking up the reins to drive on. So many housewives have seen these disgusting ways of delivering bread that an agitation is well started in various cities to have bread wrapped at the bakery.

Bakers have objected to wrapping bread because of the fractional increase in cost by wrapping and in some cities women have said that they are willing to pay more for this protection against unsanitary handling.

Other bakers have declared that bread would not keep if wrapped while warm. To this statement housewives have replied "give it to us twelve hours old if we can have it clean."

In several places wrapped bread is now sold in a way satisfactory to both baker and consumer. In others it is yet an experiment and in one city a woman's club raised a sum of money to be used in advertising the bread of a baker who has agreed to experiment in wrapping it.

If this experiment warrants it will continue to wrap the loaves and it will be interesting to see whether people in general really care whether they eat dust and germs or not.

Some people object to the label on the baker's loaf but that is a trifle in fact the labeling of bread is not done after the manner of affixing a postage stamp on a letter.

The crusty end of a home made loaf is generally much prized by those who have good tooth and who like the de-crystallized starch. But unconsciously every one seems to avoid the crust of the ordinary baker's bread. With the tendency to buy package goods it is probable that wrapped bread will be common in a few years.

WAYS OF USING MUTTON.

In small places during the cold weather mutton is hard to buy; but a few recipes will be useful when the meat is more plentiful.

Shepherd Pie.—Take a pound of cold mutton, a pint of cold boiled potatoes, one-half an onion grated, one or two cooked carrots; cut the mutton and potatoes into small pieces and put them with the onion and carrot into a deep baking dish. Add a cupful of stock or water, salt, pepper and a tablespoonful of butter cut in bits. Parboil and boil four medium-sized potatoes, mash and add cup of cream, salt and pepper to taste, beat until light, then add enough flour to make a soft dough; roll out and cover the dish with the dough, make a cross cut in the center to allow the steam to escape, and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

A modern shepherd's pie is made like the above with the addition of a few capers and a stalk or two of celery.

Barbecued Mutton.—Make a sauce by melting two tablespoonfuls of butter; to this add the juice of half a lemon, a quarter of a glass of currant jelly, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of prepared mustard, one-half teaspoonful of salt, pepper to taste and a bit of grated orange peel. Reheat slices of mutton in this sauce and serve hot. Do not cook after getting hot or it will toughen the meat.

Mutton Left-Over.—Mix together the following ingredients: Two cups of cooked macaroni, three cupfuls of cold cooked mutton, one-half cup of strained tomato, one teaspoonful of curry powder, one egg, one and a half tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and pepper to taste. Butter a deep pie plate or baking dish, make a mound of the mixture and cover thickly with crumbs, well buttered; cover the pan and cook twenty minutes, then uncover and brown. Remove to a hot platter and garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Croquettes.—Are fine made from mutton, using curry for flavoring or a little tabasco and Worcestershire sauce.

and undoubtedly it is often better than the product of the average kitchen in which the standard of cleanliness is based more on looks than sanitation. Although common opinion is surely to the contrary the modern well-inspected bakery is likely to be cleaner than the kitchen where other kinds of work are going on. Such is the law—Victor Hugo.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

IT was brought out by a social investigator recently that a great many divorces are caused by the wife's extravagance, and that in many cases the wife is not to blame because she does not have any idea what her husband's income really is.

The investigator suggested that the husband should take his wife into his confidence on this subject. I have a further suggestion—and that is that he also give his children some idea of the family income and outgo.

I happened to hear some children the other day accusing their father of extravagance, because he did not seem to be able to keep out of debt. I am pretty sure those children did not know the father's income. I am very sure they did not have an idea what it cost to keep up the establishment of which they were a part. Now, if these young people had been taken into their father's confidence, admitted to the family financial counsel, made to understand more about what it costs to live, I feel sure that they would not only have known better than to make such cruel, unjust criticisms, but would have been willing to help their father keep expenses down.

In his father's absence, John, the fifteen-year-old son of a certain family, tends the furnace. Often he puts on more coal than is necessary, or forgets to close the draughts, thus wasting a great deal of fuel. He is sometimes needed for this, but he knows that somehow or other father will buy more coal when this is gone, and the scoldings roll off him as water off a duck's back, as rebuked from a fifteen-year-old boy's back always do.

Now, if John were taken into the family council, shown just how much coal father has to buy in a winter and how much it costs, made to realize the relation of more coal to his father's salary, and to the possibility of a new suit for himself or a new hat for mother, I maintain that that would have more effect upon him, and make him more anxious to run the furnace econometrically, than many scoldings. It would arouse his pride and a sense of responsibility, and, believe me, these are stronger motives, even in a fifteen-year-old boy, than many of us realize.

In like manner, if his sister Jane, who is eighteen, fond of fun, and hospitably eager to entertain continually, should be introduced to the weekly grocery and provision bills, and made to understand that fancy cakes and good meats and cream and grapefruit and all the good things she wants for her guests, may not be secured merely by hitting the receiver of the telephone, and then eaten and forgotten, but have an ugly way of appearing on the weekly bills and swelling them to painful proportions, she, too, might be a little more thoughtful.

Many of the children of today have absolutely no idea of the limits of the buying power of money, until they begin to earn it. It seems to me that we cannot better advance their education, develop their sense of responsibility and at the same time enlist their cooperation in the difficult task of making a limited income cover unlimited desires, than by taking them into the family confidence, showing them the family budget and frankly asking them to help in this matter.

Scrap Books for Recipes

There has been a considerable call for scrap books in which to preserve the recipes and household hints, appearing daily on the Woman's page of The Gazette and a supply of them are being prepared for those who wish them. Much of value is contained in these various articles and the housewife can save the items which most appeal to her with the Scrap Book made for this purpose.

It can be secured by clipping three of the coupons appearing in the paper daily and presenting them at the office, or by sending 2 cents in stamps with the coupon where it is to be forwarded by mail.

SCRAP BOOK COUPON

On presentation of three of these coupons clipped on succeeding days from the Daily Gazette, at The Gazette office, a Recipe Coupon Book will be given Free. If the book is to be mailed include 2c postage.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

TROUBLES IN LAYING THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

By A. W. MACY.

Cyrus Field labored incessantly for twelve years and made fifty voyages across the Atlantic before he finally succeeded in accomplishing his great work of laying a cable across the ocean. The first cable was completed August 8, 1858. After a short time it ceased to work, and the friends of the enterprise were greatly disheartened. The Civil war came on, making further progress impossible for the time. But Field held on, and in 1865 the second cable was begun. After the Great Eastern had proceeded 1,200 miles on her way, unloading this second cable, it parted. Still Field persevered, though $6,000,000 had been sunk in the enterprise. In July, 1866, a third cable, 2,000 miles long, was coiled on the Great Eastern and she started once more across the Atlantic. This time the experiment was a complete success.

Immediately after applying a little Dandarine to the hair, the hair will disappear, all dandruff will disappear, all itching of the scalp will cease and there will be no more loose or falling hair.

If you wish to double the beauty of your hair in ten minutes surely try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandarine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and fragrance, the beauty and luster of true hair health.

DEATH FROM OVEREATING CANDY.

A case of death from excessive eating of Christmas candy in a department store has occurred in a New York hospital. The patient ended with convulsions. Sweets are a necessary part of the diet, especially of children, but cane sugar in any form is objectionable. Honey, and fresh dates are the best sweets, molasses candy the least objectionable form. When corn syrup is used it should not be indiscriminately mixed with such heavy foods as beans or pan cakes, but is compatible with toast, forming a suitable breakfast for a school boy. If beans and brown bread or rice and milk are taken at the next meal.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent results.

Phex, no, perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Narvay, white pine extract, which in grain and the other natural healing plant elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Phex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Phex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Phex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Phex Co., P. O. Wayne, Ind.

EXPOSITION TO BOOM STATE DEVELOPMENT

Planned By Projectors of "Wisconsin Forward" Movement—May Be Held in Milwaukee Next Fall.

"Wisconsin Forward" is the slogan of a movement which has just been started, and which is receiving the sympathy and co-operation of people from all parts of the state of Wisconsin. The matter has been talked over recently at some preliminary gatherings and in order to organize it into concrete form, a meeting made up of representative men from all sections of the state of Wisconsin, will be held at the Republican House, Milwaukee, at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday, March 13, 1912.

The movement is the outgrowth of the strong sentiment which has recently developed in this state, and to which the press is devoting much space—a sentiment in behalf of a great "get together movement" on the part of the people, with a view to developing and promoting the natural resources of this state. Wisconsin's resources are enormous, and their possibilities for development are beyond measure. Other states have been plodding along this line for years, and the hour of awakening has come for Wisconsin.

The idea of the projectors of the "Wisconsin Forward" movement is to start it in a concrete way, with a great Exposition of Wisconsin Resources to be held at Milwaukee next Fall, probably in November. The Exposition would show in a tangible way the resources of this state; Agriculture in all its forms; horticulture; Wisconsin granite, stones and minerals; her timber resources; Wisconsin clay; her water powers and her mill products, and would convey at a glance to the people what the resources of the state really are and the possibilities of development along those lines. It will appeal to all classes and to all sections of the state. It would not only be an Exposition, but also a Bureau of Promotion and Publicity for the state of Wisconsin.

The trend of travel for years has been steadily westward, but it is starting to halt, and people are beginning to look near at hand for possibilities instead of following glowing visions in remote sections of the country.

Rev. Dr. Randolph will speak at Watertown, Sunday morning and evening in the interest of the Anti-saloon cause.

Fred Crandall, who had been able to be out for a day or two since his illness, suffered a relapse yesterday and Dr. Binneweh, of Junesville was called in consultation with Dr. Campbell. He is in a critical condition.

W. M. Osborne went to the National home at Milwaukee yesterday.

The motto of the state is "Forward."

So Placed in the Library Room of the Gazette Office. They Can be Easily Reached.

It is surprising how many times old residents, lawyers, persons looking up death or marriage notices, past happenings may have had occasion to resort to the files of the Gazette for ready reference. These volumes which date back to the first issue, the only complete file in the city, are available for the use of the public in the library room of the Gazette office. The public is cordially invited to use them, but no clippings can be made from any file paper and the volumes can not be taken from the office. The library room is also available for small committee meetings at any time and committee's having need of such a meeting place are welcome to make use of it by applying for permission at the desk of the business office. The Gazette's Travel Bureau is also much used by persons who find it impossible to secure time cards of railroads at the regular source and also to look up connections at distant points. This is also open to the public and information is gladly furnished by applying at the business office.

VALUABLE WORK DONE BY SALVATION ARMY

Reach Many People Not Touched By Church—Find Work For Unemployed—Attend Sick In Homes.

Time and a closer acquaintance brings to the public at large and to Christians especially a better appreciation and deserved recognition of the work of the Salvation Army. Widely ridiculed when its work was begun, subjected to indignities, and looked down upon by members of churches, it is now regarded as a strong man of the church, reaching multitudes who never set foot inside church building, and doing charity work of a very effective nature. The character of their accomplishments is nowhere better set forth than in their own appeal which is given here:

What It Accomplishes.

They convert the drunkard and thousand are glorifying God and fighting in their ranks today.

They rescue fallen girls, restoring them to their homes or finding situations for them.

They bring hope to the despairing and joy to the joyless by faith in a living Christ.

They visit the jails and hospitals to preach the Gospel of mercy and attend the sick in their homes.

They receive discharged prisoners to give them an opportunity to start once more on the path of right.

They evangelize the streets and take the Gospel to those who will not enter a place of worship.

They publish the Gospel in many languages and have taken the Gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth.

They feed the hungry and provide a shelter for the homeless and guard them from the street.

They find temporary work for the unemployed and have been recommended by governments for their successful work in this direction.

They restore missing relatives to parents and friends.

They aim to change the heart of man and so effect a change in his home circumstances and surroundings.

They care for destitute children and have found Christian homes for many and thus saved them from a terrible doom.

They have taught tens of thousands to pray who before were blasphemers and despisers of God.

They point the sinner to the salvation and declare there is a full and free salvation for all.

There are thousands who do not attend church; they never hear the sweet songs that are sung there, they never hear that beautiful Gospel story told from the pulpit. The grave is now open for thousands of our boys and girls who are going from the streets, from the slums, from the jails, and prisons, and from the dark places of sin and shame. Never in any age of the world was the need more great than now. The Gospel of a risen Christ is the only hope; we are reaching thousands with this Gospel of power, by holding open-air meetings, visiting the slums, and holding meetings in the jails and meeting nightly in our hall. My Dear Friend, we solicit your sympathy and money to carry on this good work of saving the lost.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Their standing in Society is still somewhat in doubt.

Charity.

How often it is difficult to be wholly charitable—to do good without multiplying the sources of evil. To give alms is, nothing unless you give thought also. It is written, not "blessed is he that feedeth the poor," but "blessed is he that considereth the poor." A little thought; and a little kindness are often worth more than a great deal of money.—John Ruskin.

Keeps Your Stove "Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used. Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shiny lasts four times longer than the shiny of any other polish. You only need to polish once, as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

On your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove, it is a sin to have a dark, dirty or shiny stove. If you do not, then it better than any other stove polish you have ever used. Your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel you will agree with the thousands of other users who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish over made.

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

We are sure to get the goods. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind.

Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and free from rusting by using iron with each can of enamel only.

BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush

Use BLACK SILK METAL POLISH for silverware, mirrors, hardware or brass. It works quickly and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

'Got My Sore Foot in It Right!—TIZ'

"A TIZ Bath, My Boy, a TIZ Bath! You Can't Beat It for Sore Feet, Corns and Bunions!"

Is this man a tender-foot? No. He is a jolly fellow—one who uses TIZ and gets from the feet a happiness one never felt before.

When your feet are so tired, they feel like stumps, when they ache so that they hurt way up to your heart, when you shuffle your feet along and it seems as though all the misery you ever had has settled in your feet, look at the happy TIZ man.

You can be happy-tired just the same, if you have corns and bunions, that every body seems to step on, just think of this happy TIZ man. He had corns and bunions, too. This man used TIZ, and now he has more tender, raw, chafed, blisters, swollen, tired, smelly feet, corns, calluses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a TIZ bath, you feel the happiness working in. The happy TIZ man says you take this happy foot feeling. Don't accept any substitute.

TIZ 25 cents a box, sold everywhere, or sent direct, on receipt of price by Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill. Recommended by all Drug Stores, department and general stores.

had been in her youth at "home," as careless and wild, as disorderly and as full of good heartedness.

"Come," she said, "we'll put you up with us, right here. Johnson, take Mr. Cowles' things and go down to the city at once for his bags."

"But, my dear Mrs. Kitty," I protested, "I can't. I really must be getting on. I'm here on business with Colonel Meriwether."

"Never mind about Colonel Meriwether," rejoined my hostess, "we'll find him later—he's up the river somewhere. Always take care of the important things first. The most important thing in the whole world just now is the officers' ball tonight. Don't you see them fixing up the dancing platform on parade? It's just as well the K. O.'s away, because tonight the mice certainly are going to play."

The city of St. Louis was then the richest and gayest capital of the west, the center of the commercial and social life of west and south alike. Some of the most beautiful women of the world dwelt there and never, I imagine, had better bolder suitors than those who passed through or tarried with the army. What wonder the saying that no army man ever passed St. Louis without leaving a heart or taking one with him? What wonder that these gay young beauties emptied many an army pocket for flowers and gems and only filled many an army heart with despondency in return? Snakeslaying beyond the frontier, Hall followed ball, one packed reception after another. Dancings and sending of flowers and evening love matchings—these for the time seemed the main business of Jefferson barracks. Such exemptions are always made for army men, ever more gallant than affluent, and St. Louis entertained these gentlemen mightily with no expectation of equivalent, yet occasionally the sons of Mars gave return entertainments to the limits, or more than the limits, of their purses. The officers' balls at these barracks were the envy of all the army, and I doubt if any regimental bands in the service had reason for more proficiency in waitz time.

Of some of these things my hostess advised me as we sat, for the sake of the shade, on the gallery of No. 10, where Stevenson's man of all work had brought a glass topped table and some glasses. Here Captain Stevenson presently joined us, and after that escape was impossible.

"Do you suppose Mr. Cowles is engaged?" asked Kitty of her husband impersonally and apropos of nothing that I could see.

"I don't think so. He looks too decently dressed," drawled Stevenson.

"If he isn't engaged he will be before morning," remarked Kitty.

"Indeed, and to whom, pray?" I inquired.

"How should I know? Indeed, how should you know? Any one of a dozen—first one you see—last one who sees you, because you are tall and can dance."

"I hardly think I should dance."

"Of course you will dance. If you refuse you will be put in iron and taken out tomorrow and shot. It will do you no good to sit and think, poor boy."

"I have no clothes," I protested.

"You don't want your own clothes. This is but unusual. I think you'd look well in one of Matt's uniforms."

"That's so," said Stevenson, "we're about of a size. Good disguise, too, since you've never been here. I say, Kitty, what an awfully good joke it would be to put him up against two or three of those heartless flirts you call your friends—Ellen, for instance."

"There won't be a button left on the uniform by morning," said Kitty. "To-night the army entertains."

"And conquer," I suggested.

"Sometimes. But at the officers' ball it mostly surrenders. The casualty list after one of these balls is something awful. After all, Jack, all these modern improvements in arms have not superseded the old bow and arrow."

"And who is that dangerous flirt you were talking about a moment ago?" I asked her.

"I lose my mess number if I dare to tell. Oh, they'll all be here tonight, both army and civilians. There's Soddy Galloway of the Eighth and Tootie Devilin of Kentucky, and the Evans girl from up north and Mrs. Willie Walland."

"And Mrs. Matthew Stevenson," "Yes, myself, of course, and then, besides, Ellen."

"Ellen who?"

"Never mind. She is the most dangerous creature now at large in the western country. Avoid her! She stalks by night. She'll get you sure, my son. She has a string of hearts at her will as long as from here to the red barn."

"I shall dance tonight," I said, "if you please, I will dance with her the first waltz."

"Yes?" She raised her eyebrows. "You're a nice conceit at least... But, then, I don't like modest men."

CHAPTER V.

Adventures in New Land...

ACARRIAGE passed with two gentlemen and drew up at the Officers' club. "Billy Williams, adjutant," commented Captain Stevenson lazily. "Who's the other?"

"Yes; who's the tall one?" asked Kitty as the gentlemen descended from the carriage. "Good figure, anyhow. Wonder if he dances?"

"Coming over, I believe," said Stevenson, for now the two turned our follow officer, and as the latter approached our stoop I caught a glance at his companion.

It was Gordon Orme!

Orme was no match surprised on his own part. After the presentations all around he turned to me with Kitty Stevenson. "My dear madam," he said, "you have given me the great pleasure of meeting again my shadow, Mr. Cowles of Virginia. There is where I supposed him now, back home in Virginia."

"America forever!" said Kitty. "My war chest is light," I said, "as I am farther away from home than I had planned. But you know my black horse, Mr. Orme, that you fancied?"

"Oh, by Jove! I'll stake you anything you like against him—a thousand pounds if you like!"

"The odds must be even," I said, "and the only question is as to the worth of the horse. That you may not think I overvalue him, however, make it half that sum or less, if these gentlemen think the horse has not that value."

"A son of old Klingwalla is worth three times that," insisted Orme. "If you don't mind and care to close it, we'll shoot tomorrow."

"Very well," I said.

"And we will be so disconcerted to the stranger within our gates," said the vivacious Kitty, "as to give you a jolly good beating, Captain Orme. We'll turn out the post to see the match."

"So good of you to bring Captain Orme here, major. I'm sure he will join us tonight," Kitty motioned toward the dancing pavilion, now well under way. Orme smiled and bowed and declared himself most happy. Thus in a few moments he was of our party. I could not avoid the feeling that it was some strange fate which continually brought us two together.

"The army's rotten for want of service," grumbled Williams, following out his own pet hobby. "Nothing in the world to do for our fellows here. Sport? Why, Captain Orme, we couldn't show you a horse race where I'd advise you to bet a dollar. The fishing doesn't carry, and the shooting is pretty much gone even if it were the season. Outside of a pigeon match or so, this post is stagnant. We dance, and that's all. Bah!"

"You spoke of pigeon shooting," said Orme lazily. "Blue rocks, I amagine."

"No," said Williams; "natives. We use the wild birds. Would you like to have a little match with our birds?"

"I shouldn't mind."

"Oh, you'll be welcome! We'll take your money away from you. There is Hardin or, say, Major Westover. Illinois of the Sixth got eighty-five out of his last hundred. Once he made it ninety-two, but that's above average, of course."

"You interest me," said Orme. "For the honor of my country I shouldn't mind a go with one of your gentlemen. Make it at a hundred for what wagers you like."

"And when?"

"Tomorrow afternoon if you say. I'm not stopping long, I am afraid. I'm off up river soon."

"Let's see," mused Williams. "Harrison is away, and I doubt if Westover could come, for he's officer of the day."

"And conquer," I suggested.

"Sometimes. But at the officers' ball it mostly surrenders. The casualty list after one of these balls is something awful. After all, Jack, all these modern improvements in arms have not superseded the old bow and arrow."

"And who is that dangerous flirt you were talking about a moment ago?" I asked her.

"Ellen who?"

"Never mind. She is the most dangerous creature now at large in the western country. Avoid her! She stalks by night. She'll get you sure, my son. She has also Cotto Washer. And—"

"How about my friend Mr. Cowles?" asked Orme. "My acquaintance with him makes me think he'd take on any sort of sporting proposition. Do you shoot, sir?"

"All Virginians do," I answered, and so I did in the field, although I had never shot or seen a pigeon match in all my life.

Orme passed his cigarette case. "In view of my possibly greater experience," he said, "I'd allow Mr. Cowles six in the hundred."

"I am not looking for matches," said I, my blood kindling at his accustomed insolence, "but if I shot it would be both me at scratch."

"Oh, very well," smiled Orme. "And should we make a little wager about it—I ask your consent, Mrs. Stevenson?"

"America forever!" said Kitty.

"My war chest is light," I said, "as I am farther away from home than I had planned. But you know my black horse, Mr. Orme, that you fancied?"

"Oh, by Jove! I'll stake you anything you like against him."

"And when?"

"Tomorrow afternoon if you say. I'm not stopping long, I am afraid. I'm off up river soon."

"Let's see," mused Williams. "Harrison is away, and I doubt if Westover could come, for he's officer of the day."

"And conquer," I suggested.

"Sometimes. But at the officers' ball it mostly surrenders. The casualty list after one of these balls is something awful. After all, Jack, all these modern improvements in arms have not superseded the old bow and arrow."

"And who is that dangerous flirt you were talking about a moment ago?" I asked her.

"I lose my mess number if I dare to tell. Oh, they'll all be here tonight, both army and civilians. There's Soddy Galloway of the Eighth and Tootie Devilin of Kentucky, and the Evans girl from up north and Mrs. Willie Walland."

"And Mrs. Matthew Stevenson," "Yes, myself, of course, and then, besides, Ellen."

"Ellen who?"

"Never mind. She is the most dangerous creature now at large in the western country. Avoid her! She stalks by night. She'll get you sure, my son. She has

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

THE DOCTOR

By Howard L. Rann.

The doctor is an experiment situated midway between this world and the life beyond. Not all doctors talk alike, but they all charge alike.

This charge usually makes the grocery bill look like a collection for the King-hadrof Koreans.

A few years ago some enterprising doctor discovered that there is an appendicitis to the human body and immediately invented a new disease, which has become highly popular with people who don't know an appendix from a glossary. This operation is a very simple one and can be performed while you wait, unless you have forgotten your check book.

The doctor is one of the most learned men in the community and rarely confounds the professional terms, "materia medica" and "paribus unum."

The doctor never gets what is coming to him in this world, and that is one reason why the profession is so crowded.

Nobody ever pays a doctor's bill until he is led up to it by the deputy sheriff, and the result is that every physician has a collection of nullified promissory notes and judgments that he couldn't cash in for a lap robe.

Many a doctor has made a thirty-mile drive on a winter night, only to discover the next day that his patient was several years in arrears at the shooting gallery.

The doctor is the only man in the community whose accounts are collected by a kind and merciful providence.

If it were not for the human tongue, the doctor wouldn't know what to do with his surplus pills.

As it is, he can take one fleeting glance at the complexion of the tongue and tell immediately whether the patient is troubled with bunions or is trying to collect little loose change in the form of accident insurance.

Wants to Find Him.

"My doctor advises me to go south for my health."

"Who is your doctor? My fool of a doctor advises me to sleep outdoors for my health."

Quite Dissimilar.
"Pilkina dotes on Epictetus."
"Anything like Alice?"

Worth the Extra Money.
"Want to buy a parrot, lady?"
"Does he wear?"

"This one doesn't, lady; but I've got one aboard the ship as is a wonder and only a dollar more!"—Judge.

Costly at That.
The friend that one buys is a needless expense.
It's a crotchet of the
And a worth 'bout two cents.
